About our company

Irvine & Company, LLC is a local accounting firm in Portland, Oregon that partners with businesses primarily in the alcoholic beverage, agricultural, real estate, construction, and manufacturing industries. Our vast knowledge and unparalleled expertise in these industries allows us to provide innovative accounting, tax, and advisory solutions to various sized clients. Our clients view us as a source of knowledge to help them build their businesses and make sound financial decisions.

About our team

Our 30-plus member team comes from varied backgrounds and industries. With the wide-range of experience available in our company we are able to provide personalized attention to large and small businesses alike. Each of our team members have the opportunity to work in both tax and assurance areas to provide a seamless service for our clients. We view knowledge as our most valuable asset, and we maintain this asset by promoting a learning environment through continuing education to stay abreast of any changes in the accounting profession or our clients' industries.

About our company culture

Irvine & Company, LLC features a unique work culture which includes constant team collaboration, extensive training opportunities in both tax and assurance, and a diverse leadership team. Our employees say that what makes us different is our comfortable, casual atmosphere. We have a dog- friendly office, casual dress (jeans), weekly lunches during tax season, hybrid work environment, free parking, competitive salary and benefits, and team activities (because we enjoy our work and the people we work with). Additionally, our firm prides itself on working reasonable hours throughout the year. Work weeks of 65-80 hours are not part of the Irvine & Company LLC culture and we require that each employee take at least one full weekend off per month during tax season – we believe that rested, healthy employees provide higher-quality service to our clients.
